

Columbus, O., Nov. 16.—Four prisoners made their escape from the Ohio penitentiary Sunday night by climbing to the roof of a cell, then through a ventilator, and sliding down a rope made of strips of leather belting the lawn in front of the prison.

The escape of the prisoners was daring one. The cell block from which they made their exit is in front of the big prison, and the men dropped to the ground beneath a window in the warden's office, where the lights were burning brightly.

A trusted prisoner seated at a desk near the window saw the last man who fell before he reached the end of the rope, limp away in the darkness. The alarm was given and a posse of prison guards armed with rifles immediately started in pursuit. It was thought the men ran to the railroad yards near by, and boarded an outgoing freight train.

OPINIONS GIVEN FOR SCARCITY

OF TURKEYS THIS FALL—SOME BLAME NEWSPAPERS.

OTHER MARKET CONDITIONS

Grapes Will Soon Become Scarce—Potato Fluctuations and General Market Prospects.

The apple market during the next few days is expected to be brisk. A large variety of good fruit is now being received by Janesville dealers. Several companies have ordered large supplies recently, which will be disposed of at fair prices. Good apples are also on sale at reasonable prices.

Grapes Scarce
The grape market is thinning out. The season of the Concord is coming to an end and the only ones remaining are the California tokays which are being sold at the same price as earlier in the fall. The grape crop was not large this year and consequently sold for unusually high prices. Those on the market, however, have been of good quality and in excellent condition and there was no overstocking at any one time which usually results in a lot of over-ripe and poor selling stock. The California grapes have been almost better than usual and the huge bunches which are put up in the fancy and attractive boxes, or carefully packed in barrels surrounded with the soft ground cork, have been good.

Potatoes Uncertain
Potatoes are sold at about the same price as last week, and range from sixty to seventy cents. Local dealers anticipate a slight advance in price within the next few days. Most of the tubers now on the market were grown in the county and it will be another week anyway before the shipped-in stock will be sold. Those that were partly rotted during the wet and cold season are now completely decayed while the others are of exceptionally good quality. There is a fair supply of celery on the market this year, although the general stock is not so good and many bunches are of inferior quality. Pumpkins are good this year and there is a plentiful supply of them for eating and for jack-o'-lanterns which are always the delight of the small boys and girls.

Few Turkeys
Janesville butchers have few turkeys and some are at a loss to account for the apparent scarcity. The opinion has been expressed that the farmers are holding back their turkeys in order to obtain an exorbitant price for them. If this condition continues to prevail it is feared that the tables of many homes may be without this appropriate meat Thanksgiving day. A representative of a local meat market said yesterday that a Chicago firm offered dressed turkeys of the best quality at 17 and 17½ cents a pound. He said that the farmers of this vicinity are depending on the false reports circulated by some papers stating that turkeys are scarce and high. "If these rumors," he continued, "would not be rushed to print, the farmer might bring in more of his produce and sell it at the usual prices. From present appearances some people may have to get along without turkey Thanksgiving day unless this talk of high prices ceases. Live turkeys ought to be bought at thirteen cents and sold to customers at sixteen to eighteen cents. But farmers are holding them in the hopes of getting twenty-five cents per pound."

Another dealer said that he had no turkeys on the market and he fears that lovers of the bird will have to get along without the usual delicious Thanksgiving dish. This man is of the opinion that farmers are holding on to their gobblers until Christmas and New Year's. Other men think differently and believe that there is a real shortage this year and that this fact alone is the cause of the small number of the big birds to be seen hanging from the butchers' meat hooks. Some of the dealers are planning to procure their supply from the Windy City if local turkey raisers continue to hold their stock much longer. Spring chickens retail at from a shilling to fifteen cents a pound. Geese sell at about twelve cents and ducks at fifteen cents. The probable price of turkeys early next week, if there are any to be had, will be between 18 and 20 cents. Some Janesville dealers have not made efforts to get turkeys as yet and claim that it is rather early.

J. A. BRITTAN WAS APPOINTED

Assemblyman From Beloit Is Made Factory Inspector for This District.

Assemblyman J. A. Brittan, of Beloit, has been appointed assistant factory inspector. Mr. Brittan is well qualified for and deserving of the position as he has put in all his days since boyhood in the factory and machine shop. He has a host of friends who will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

A CARD
We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Green's warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

J. P. Baker, Geo. E. King & Co., E. B. Helmreich, Smith's Pharmacy, People's Drug Co., H. E. Hamon & Co., Janesville, Wis.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on

SURPRISES IN THE SATURDAY GAMES

Results of the Northwestern Notre Dame and the Yale Princeton Game Unexpected.

Football results of Saturday brought several surprises, Princeton's victory over Yale proving a big upset in the east, while the Northwestern-Notre Dame tie was decidedly unexpected. In the west. The combined result, however, was satisfactory to followers of the great college game, who are followers of no particular team.

While the defeat of both Yale and Harvard will tend to make the annual struggle between the blue and crimson an anti-climax, Michigan's victory over Wisconsin, coupled with Chicago's great game at West Point, will give a championship flavor to the Thanksgiving day game here between the maroons and their rivals from Ann Arbor.

Michigan has been tied in Minnesota and Chicago by Northwestern, but both are undefeated by western teams. Northwestern's tie with Notre Dame does not help the purple-stained Gophers, however, and as McCornack's men have yet to meet Wisconsin and the Gophers must also pass through the same test, there is still a possible chance that a good claim to western leadership may be gained in the turkey day game on Marshall field. That it will be a contest worthy of the day is certain. Michigan and Chicago always play their hardest against each other, and the results of last week show that both Stagg and Yost should have their men in top form for the final struggle of the year.

Maroons Beaten by Technically
While Chicago was defeated by West Point, the details of the game show that but for a technicality the maroons would have had a tie, and in "straight football"—supposed to be Chicago's weak point—the westerners appeared to have outplayed the soldiers. When the handicap of the long trip is considered together with the low ranking of Chicago among the western teams to date, and the soldiers' close games with Yale and Harvard, the contest at West Point argues well for western football.

Michigan, by scoring two place kicks and a touchdown against Wisconsin, for a total of sixteen points, passed its second crucial test successfully. Yost's men, while they were against a weaker team than when they met Minnesota, showed improvement over their form at Minneapolis, and incidentally in the work of Hammond-James sprang a combination, which may challenge Eckersall's drop-kicking ability in the game yet ahead of them.

Wisconsin men conceded that their team in the first half, at least, played better football than that showed in the Chicago game. Still Michigan proved conclusively, that it was the better eleven.

Badgers Are Improving
Wisconsin, like Michigan, is improving and if Curtis' men can successfully recover from their Chicago and Michigan reverses and beat Northwestern they may surprise Minnesota. On the comparative showings of the Gophers and Badgers against Michigan, however, Williams' men should be a 1 to 2 favorite in the Thanksgiving struggle at Madison.

Minnesota's score of 32 to 0 against the Illinois indicates that the giants from the north are not going back and that it is highly probable they will finish the season undefeated. If they do and Michigan defeats Chicago the championship will remain a disputed point.

Tigers Are Champions
By its victory over Yale, Princeton established its right to be classed champion of the country. Princeton defeated Dartmouth, 17 to 0, and Dartmouth beat Harvard 11 to 0, so that the Tigers easily have the right to the title, as Harvard has beaten Pennsylvania. The chief interest in the east now centers in the annual Yale-Harvard game at Cambridge next Saturday.

WILL NOT RAISE PRICE OF SHAVES

They Will Remain Ten Cents, But Extras Will Cost

More.
Prices for shaving will not be raised. That is, a plain shave will cost ten cents as it has in the past, but extras will be charged for. This will be the substance of the report of the committee recently appointed by the barbers' union to find the opinion of the shop bosses on the subject of raising the shave prices to fifteen cents. Mr. H. Whitaker, one of the committee, says that he has been misquoted on the subject and he did not approve of the raise as he believes ten cents is enough for the shave but that extras should be charged for. The present talk on the subject was merely the result of bringing up the question to settle it finally where it was dropped last spring. Many of the journey-men barbers claim that prices of living have increased and that the requirements of the barber of today such as clean coats, oils, pomades, hot towels, etc., make his expenses larger than ever before and also that he can shave but five men an hour, where he could shave seven before so many extras came into the business.

WILL FEED THE HUNGRY

Mission Will Invite Many to Thanksgiving Dinner.
Extensive preparations are being made at the Mary Kimball mission on South Jackson street for a Thanksgiving dinner to be given to two hundred and fifty of the city's poor. The dinner will be free to the poor children and their parents who desire to attend.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?

DISCUSS LEAF FIRM FAILURE

LOCAL PACKERS INTERESTED IN CRUMP AND SUTTER MATTERS.

A FEW SCATTERING SALES

In Old Leaf Reported for the Past Week—Some Interesting Statistics.

The failures of two Chicago leaf firms the first of last week was the source of much discussion in local circles. Universal regret is expressed on all sides and it is hoped that their embarrassment will be only temporary. The firm of Sutter Bros., has been an important factor in the Wisconsin market for years and have done a large business in Janesville and the other packing centers. Both the Sutters and Crump Bros., were forced into bankruptcy through inability to extend their loans falling due. Their down fall is attributed to an attempt to do a very large business on borrowed capital, liquidation in evitably following the withdrawal of credit. The loss, if any, will fall upon the banks rather than on the leaf dealers.

Scattering Sales.
Only a few scattering sales have materialized in the new crop. F. S. Baines sold 337 cases of 1901 and purchased 90 cases of Edwards Bros. George Rumlill reports the sale of 180 cases of '01 and '02 during the week. Mr. Lowenheim, of Hamburg has gathered up something over 100 cases from dealers in export grades and Joseph Blimborg purchased 200 cases of '01 from O. H. Holton, of Stoughton. The shipments out of storage amounted to about 20 car loads, 953 cases, for the week.

Statistics of Acreage.
The following interesting table, compiled from the assessors' crop reports, show some remarkable changes in the acreage devoted to tobacco in 1901 and 1903. Counties producing less than 100 acres are not included.

Counties.	1901.	1903.
Chippewa	136	17
Columbia	3085	2101
Crawford	1517	1487
Dane	14928	14364
Dunn	427	173
Grant	311	193
Green	213	171
Jackson	119	16
Jefferson	439	650
Juneau	251	65
La Crosse	149	73
Monroe	646	171
Richland	355	303
Rock	7472	8219
Vernon	7417	6213
All other counties	303	544

Total

At first blush few would discern any connection between the return of the Tammany Tiger and the tobacco market in New York City. Nevertheless election day left its mark on last week's business and few sales of any considerable size were negotiated. A few transactions in Wisconsin were effected between political arguments, but the business was small compared to that of the previous week.

In the Various States.
There was a decided falling off in the quantity of tobacco sold in Pennsylvania last week, compared with the previous two weeks. This was ascribed to the small quantity of '02 goods remaining in the hands of the packers and others. There is little buying of the new crop. Those who are after it say that it is not as good as that of last year. In the tobacco belt of Connecticut sales have varied from 11 to 22c, according to quality. The average has been 14 cents. About half the crop is sold.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?
She said: "What is there for your dear sake
That I would not do or be?
He said: "Why! my dear, I am easy to please.
All I ask is drink A. B. C. Tea.
25c a package. Badger Drug Co."

Real Estate Transfers
Betsy Van Skike to Frank Van Skike, $6000.00 pps. se¼, ne¼ & nw¼ sec 17, Spring Valley.
George L. Turner & wife to Burton J. King, $800.00 lot 4, block 1, King's Add Beloit.
Burton J. Maxwell & wife to Amanda Hoff, $800.00 lot 4, block 1, King's Add Beloit.
Anson Baldwin & wife to Willis Miller $500.00 ne¼, nw¼, ne¼, sec. 7, Town of Union.

Fur Display at the Grand
Mr. H. Lehman, representing Hoffman and Lehman, Milwaukee's reliable manufacturing furriers, will be at the Grand Hotel parlors, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 16, 17th, with a complete line of high grade furs; Alaska seal and other jackets our specialty. Mr. Lehman being a practical furrier, will give suggestions and estimates on remodeling and repairs. You are invited to visit the display.

Daisy—There's nothing like deep breathing and Rock Mountain Tea to make broad shoulders, a fine figure and good health. Tea or tablet form, 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?

HIGH KING CARD CLUB FEAST

Met Saturday Evening and Partook of Chicken Supper.
Saturday evening the members of the High King Card club met at the home of Mrs. Warren Haskins on the river road. Cards were played and during the evening a chicken pie supper was served. Prizes were won by Mrs. James Angell, William Winbigger, Mrs. Lynn Whaley and James Angell.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?

WISCONSIN TEAM RETURNS HOME

It Is Not Disabled by the Hard Game of Saturday—Men Are Discouraged.

Wisconsin football players arrived in Madison at noon yesterday, bruised and battered after the hard game Saturday, but not a single man of the team was injured, and by the middle of the week all will be in shape for the hard training yet remaining.

The men were much disappointed over the defeat, and especially disappointed at not scoring, but they are not dispirited and will work to win the two remaining championship games and thus place Wisconsin among the leaders in western football. The men realize that the game with Northwestern is a hard one, but expect to win. They are doubtful at present as to the Minnesota game, as a great deal depends on the way the team comes out of the Northwestern contest. If the men are in as good condition as when they met Michigan, they believe that, playing on the home grounds, they can win over the Gophers, who have never defeated Wisconsin on its own grounds.

One of the pleasing results of the Michigan game was the friendship shown between the two teams, and the Wisconsin men were loud in their praises of the treatment given them by their opponents and by the Michigan "rooters."

Coach Yost said after the game that if Wisconsin played against Minnesota as against Michigan Wisconsin should win. Wisconsin men who saw Michigan think the Wolverines will beat Chicago. "Jimmy" Sheldon, the old Chicago captain, who returned to Chicago with the Wisconsin crowd, in speaking of Chicago's chances, said he did not see how the maroons could beat Yost's men.

WITH LINKS of Interest to Railroad AND PIN. Men.

North-Western Road.
All trains on the Milwaukee-Madison division of the North-Western road and the Wisconsin Central were blocked for several hours by a hail wreck of the two roads on Grand Avenue, in Waukesha at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The Central, south bound fast freight and the North-Western east bound freight collided, throwing both from the track and tipping the big new General motor engine on its side across the rails. By almost miraculous good fortune all the train hands escaped with no more than slight injuries.

Neither engineer observed the other train approaching. The trains were going about five miles an hour, having pulled out under a good head of steam for up grades. The North-Western engine struck the other at the rear of the cab, plowing its way through the machinery, tipping the huge locomotive over, and throwing the tender on one side on the North-Western track. It was itself carried about ten feet to one side by the momentum of the Central train, but remained upright in the middle of the street.

Engineer Thompson and his fireman had no time to jump, but were thrown thirty feet by the shock, landing unhurt on the grass plot. Fireman Lamanthy of the North-Western engine jumped safely, but Engineer Kenyon was compelled to stand still until the wreckage came to a standstill, leaving him cooped in, but uninjured. Both the heavy trains were damaged, several cars being telescoped and two being thrown on the North-Western depot platform.

The rails have been twisted and broken, and a makeshift track was laid to allow the two North-Western passengers, east and west bound to pass. By use of the crane, the collapsed Mogul was finally placed upright. It was nearly noon before the freights were permitted to go by the scene of the wreck. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars. Both engines and fifty cars were damaged. Both trains were heavily laden.

A second accident occurred at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the crane was being pulled to Fond du Lac, and the upright derrick tore through the trolley wires at the Broadway crossing beaking them both. The heavy copper wires adjoining, and as a result nearly 300 telephones were burned out, and the central switchboard so damaged that there was no phone till night.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?
Into each life some ruins must fall,
Wise people don't sit down and bawl;
Only fools suicide or take to flight,
Smart people take Rocky Mountain Tea at night. Smith's Pharmacy.

Have you seen Mrs. Austin's new dress?

We Make A Specialty of Cleaning Long Coats. Now is The Time.

Carl Brockhaus,
Steam Dye Works
Goods called for and delivered.
59 E. Milwaukee St., New Phone 313

Calumet Baking Powder

Perfect in quality. Moderate in price.

Congregational Church... Tuesday Evening, Nov. 17th.

HON.

Wallace Bruce

Under the auspices of the Caledonian Society.

"Scotland and Scotsmen"

A Famous Lecture AND A Famous Lecturer.

Hon. Wallace Bruce has appeared before the largest audiences in the largest cities and is a magnetic brilliant talker. His subject is inspiring and full of excellent thought.

Admission 25c.

High School students are especially invited; a special admission rate of 10c will be made them.

MYERS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

PRINCE L. MYERS, Manager. SPECIAL ENGAGEMENTS.

Tuesday November 17.

A LAUGHING HIT!

Full of Odd Types and Quaint Humor.

"Mrs. Wiggs —OF—

Cabbage Patch"

An Ideal Liebler & Co. Cast.

Madge Carr Cook as Mrs. Wiggs. Mable Tallaforn as Love Mary. Helen Lowell as Miss Mary. Wm. T. Dodge as Mr. Stubbins. A Dramatization (by arrangement with the Century Co.) of Mrs. Rice's Two Famous Stories.

Prices—Orchestra and first two rows orchestra circle $1.50; balance orchestra circle, 80c.; first four rows balcony, 75 cents; balance balcony, 50 cents; gallery 25 cents. Sale opens Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Postively no free list. Carriages at 10:15.

MYERS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

—Thursday, Nov. 19—

Blondell & Fennessy's

HURRICANE OF FUN AND FROLIC.

THE KATZENJAMMER KIDS.

DON'T MISS THEM.

Secure Seats Early.

FUN for the CHILDREN.

ALL STAR CAST.

WALLY CLARK, the distinguished German Comedian.
CAROL TRIXEPA, the California Sunbeam.
DIXON & LANG, Sweet Toddlers and character imitations.
GRAY & GRANT & M., the greatest of all Musical Comedians.
THE FENNELLS, the Acrobatic Wonders.
LELA LELAND, The Dancing Marvel.
GRUBBS & ALEXANDER, the Lilliputian Comedians.
DAVID JONES, Baritone Vocalist.
THOMAS KELLY, the King of Rag Time Players.
RAY & VESTAL, and many others.
BILLY ANDRUS and a trained mule "Tex" from the Hippodrome London.
Prices—Orchestra and Orchestra circle, 50c.; first four rows balcony, 35c.; balance balcony, 25c.; gallery, 15c.
Sale opens Wednesday at 9 o'clock.

The Kind You Want...

is the best in all things.

We have a

Special Grade of

Mocha and Java

Coffee at 25 cents

which you are sure to like. Don't forget the Golden Blend Coffee at 25c. It pleases the most fastidious.

Janesville Spice Co.

Both Phones,

is what you want when you need a good article, and what is there more needful or of more importance to have good than coal. It can't be too good, as the more heat-producing qualities it has the more economical it will prove. Try a few times from us and you'll get the real thing.

BADGER COAL CO.

City Office Peoples Drug Co. Main Office, Academy St. Phones 76

The First National Bank

Janesville, Wisconsin Capital and Undivided Profits $200,000.00

Directors
S. B. SMITH, Pres. L. B. CARLE, Vice-Pres. JOHN G. REXFORD, Cashier
A. P. LOVEJOY H. H. RUMRILL
H. RICHARDSON T. O. HOWE
A Strictly Commercial Business Transacted.

PURE ..and.. SPARKLING

Buob's beer contains only the purest of materials in its manufacture. We deliver direct from the brewery in either pint or case lots.

South Side Brewery, PHONE 141.

Do You Want

a good sign to hang over your place of business? I don't say "do you need it?" because you know as well as I do that it is necessary to have your name over the door or window of your establishment to let people know who you are and what you have to sell. I make anything in the sign line and my signs are a little different than anybody else's, simply because my designs are new and original. It will pay you to let me furnish you with samples of my work and an estimate on the job you want done.

KENT...

REAR OF NEW POST OFFICE.

DODGEST. PHONE 482.

MOLASSES FOR HORSES

Recently scientific tests have been made as to what is the best food for horses that are unthrifty or sick. Instead of feeding them oats or corn, Molasses Feed is given with the most satisfying results. A horse that weighed 800 pounds gained 40 pounds in two weeks on a molasses diet, and in a month he had gained nearly 100 pounds to his weight. All signs of disease disappeared and his new coat of hair was glossy and beautiful. This experiment was but one of hundreds, all showing the wonderful curative and health giving properties of Molasses Feed. Farmers, livestockmen and others who own horses should give the Molasses Feed a test. It is cheap, and it is represented by scientists, it can remake and rebuild run-down horses. It will prove invaluable to owners of horse flesh. This feed for sale at

DOTY'S MILL,

Janesville, Wisconsin

Special Sale

on horse blankets. All kinds cheaper than any place in city. Machine made single harnesses at cost. Lowest prices on robes and stable Blankets. Best values on trunks and traveling bags.

T. R. Costigan

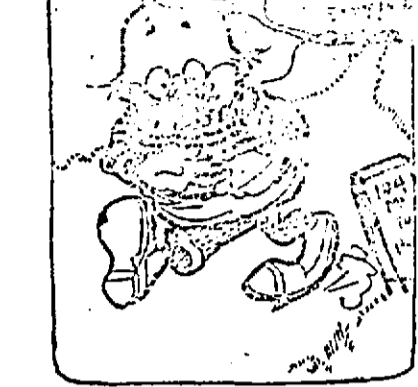

8 Corn Exchange

FAIRBANKS MORSE Gasoline Engines

All Sizes. 1-1/2 to 300 Horse Power. Best Engines for all Purposes.

Tarrant & Kemmerer

AGENTS Corner N. Bluff and N. First St. Janesville

Cloudy tonight; fair Tuesday, with severe cold wave.

LABOR AND WAGES.

Much is being said and written these days about the increased cost of living as compared with the increase in wages, and in the discussion the fact is usually overlooked that a large percentage of the increase in living expenses is due to expenditure for luxuries rather than for necessities.

When times are good and every class of labor employed at good wages, money is plenty and as a great many people live up to their income, be it large or small, the money goes as easy as it comes.

The actual necessities of life, namely provision, fuel and clothing, are not exorbitant in price, and there is no reason why the average wage earner, if so disposed, may not have a bank account.

The large increase in savings-bank deposits during the past four years, in which more than 6,000,000 wage earners are interested, tells the story. Wages were never better than today. The American Economist recently compiled some figures on the wage question which are both interesting and instructive. The paper says:

"What is the condition of labor today? Compared with conditions in other countries and with other times in our own history it has never been surpassed—$1.50 and $5. a day for stone masons and bricklayers; $1.75 per day for the commonest kind of work, such as railway construction, which but a few years ago commanded but $1.10 per day; $25 to $27 a month for farm hands who used to seek employment at $18 and $20. Since 1897 there has been an increase of from 35 to 45 per cent in the wages of our protected manufacturing industries and corresponding advances in other lines of employment. It has been urged by the opponents of our protection system that labor does not partake of its advantages. Let us see. In the first place, our wage earners receive about double what they do in free trade countries. From the last Federal census I find that during the year 1900 the average number of wage earners, exclusive of officers and clerks, employed in our iron and steel industries, was 22,490. The total wages paid was $120,820,275, or an average of $543 per year for all employed. In the tin, terra and black plate industries there were employed 14,825 men, women and children, receiving $10,288,061 total wages—or $693 per year. In our glass industries there were employed 57,749 men, women and children receiving $29,488,301, or $510 per year. In the miscellaneous industries of the country there were employed 46,582 men, women and children, receiving $22,450,880 or an average of $482 per year—showing that in the leading representative protected industries, even during the year 1900, before the greatest advance in wages was made, the average pay to wage earners, including men, women and children, was $535 per year, and since that time there has been at least 20 per cent advance in wages in most lines of labor making the average today not less than $643 per year, while the average school teacher after extensive preparation does not receive to exceed $400 per year.

The average price of nails in 1896 was $2.54 per keg with corn at 15c per bushel in Iowa. In 1902 nails sold at $2.15 per keg and Iowa corn at 50c per bushel. Protection is a good thing for Iowa and the home market is the best market in the world.

Washington Post: One of the indictments against Mr. Beavers has been found defective, but it is not believed that he will miss it from his splendid collection.

Denver Post: A Minnesota populist who desired to transfer his alle-

credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's attitude. The paper, therefore feels free to discuss the question.

While it is true that the initial movement, which resulted in making Mr. Cooper a logical candidate for congress, was instigated by a post-office fight, it is also true that people generally have but little time for such a thing.

The district is large, and it is a very doubtful question whether this element can mass strength enough for effective organization.

So far as the factional contest is concerned, it is a well recognized fact that the state administration has a strong following in Racine, Green, and Walworth counties, with a liberal sprinkling in Rock, Walworth and Kenosha.

Mr. Cooper, like every other congressman, is a representative of the people. His record in congress is clean, and his influence and ability freely recognized.

Scattered over the district he has a host of friends who would not be a party to forcing him into state issues, and as a matter of good politics, for the present, as well as for the future, the Gazette does not believe that this issue should be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Cooper as well as Racine county understands that when the time comes for him to retire, that Rock will present a candidate to succeed him, but the time is not ripe for the change.

The first and most important work of the party, in the district, as well as throughout the state is to get together on some basis that will present a united front to the common enemy. When this is done counties as well as communities, will be free from internal strife, and questions of minor importance can be handled without prejudice. Mr. Cooper will succeed himself, unless the opposition is more formidable than from the present outlook.

Dowie proposes to build a railroad from Zion City to Chicago to get even with the C. & N. W. company for alleged abuse. A man who can entertain 3000 men on a junketing tour at his own expense is liable to be a dangerous rival in almost any undertaking.

THE COURAGE OF '96

Congressman Cousins, of Iowa, in a recent speech at Cedar Rapids, uttered these significant words:

"It will be remembered that in 1896 Republicans and patriotic democrats were abused quite as ignorantly and rudely for opposing the opening of our minds to all the silver of the world as they now are for opposing the free exposure of our markets to foreign manufacturers. Then the epithet applied was 'the tools of the money power,' now it is 'tools of the trust.'

The vindication of republican principles need not wait for the fulfillment of political prophecy. It shines forth already in the unimpeachable credit of our country and in the unparalleled prosperity of its people. If the annals of this enterprising and indomitable republic should ever sink beneath the waves of time and tide, and then in some far distant day the record of financial honor made in the slush and swirl of the prejudice in 1896 should be washed up upon the shore of some future civilization, it will be enough to witness and to glorify the character of American citizenship in the closing days of the nineteenth century. The courage of '96 was worthy of a great nation which expects nothing more and nothing less of those entrusted with its destiny.

After all the talk and tirade about existing evils, the condition of the country today is better than it has ever been. The average citizen today enjoys better returns for his toil and greater comforts than ever before. The administrations of President McKinley and of his successor, President Roosevelt, have witnessed the greatest improvements and accomplishments that the nation has ever experienced. Concomitant with the tremendous commercial and industrial achievements which we have already discussed, vast good has been wrought in other lines. The barbarism of the dark ages which had vexed our people for three-quarters of a century has been expelled from our shores. The back yard has been thoroughly renovated and peace and happiness prevail where misery existed under Spanish rule. The laws that have been made restricting evil combines in our country proved successful in the main under the decisions of our courts, and while some evils still exist, as always have and doubtless always will be the sum of human progress is encouraging, and to every mind except the pessimist the future augurs well.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER

Stories are floating around the district to the effect that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition because of his friendly attitude toward the state administration, and because of the fact that his renomination will not be opposed by that element in the party.

These stories are strenuously circulated by disappointed postoffice candidates and their friends, and are endorsed by a constituency of party workers who were annoyed by Mr. Cooper's indifference during the last state campaign.

The Gazette has belonged to the latter class of critics, and has taken occasion now and then to express opinions concerning the congressman's

BOSTWICK & SONS' STORE IS ROBBED

THIEVES SECURE TWELVE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN BOOTY.

CHOSE BEST IN THE SHOP

They Carefully Picked Out the Choice Silks and Valuable Furs—Slight Clues.

J. M. Bostwick & Sons this morning offered a reward of $1,000 for the recovery of silks and furs valued at $2,000 stolen from the store some time between Saturday afternoon and this morning, and the apprehension of the burglars. The robbery was first discovered early this morning when the senior member of the firm, stepping to the rear part of the store, perceived that the top row of racks which contained some of the choicest goods in the store had been entirely depleted of their contents. Further investigation showed that rolls of silk had also been taken from the other compartments and that the fur department had been robbed of several thousand dollars worth of valuable garments.

How Work Was Done
After a hasty examination of the premises it was found that entrance had been effected through the skylight in the roof of the building. Holes had been bored in the doors leading to the store and the locks turned. The window in the south end of the store had been opened, the bar removed from the shutters, and dry-goods boxes piled thereunder to afford an easy exit for the burglars.

Crossed Roof With Ladder
The robbers had gained access to the roof by way of the little skylight over the hallway reached by two flights of stairs in an adjoining block, one of which leads to Dr. Loomis' office. There had been no difficulty there as the ladder and skylight were not fastened or locked. The thieves passed over R. M. Bostwick's store and the vacant stand formerly occupied by Mr. Fleury and made an easy descent with the ladder to the roof of the Bostwick block.

Probably Saturday Night
Sunday morning C. E. Jenkins discovered that some one had tampered with a ladder leading to a skylight near his apartments. This skylight is about twenty yards distant from the one before mentioned. The ladder swings from an iron rod securely fastened in the timbers of the buildings and the skylight is also strongly locked. Ordinarily the ladder hangs alongside the wall but yesterday morning it was drawn out, showing that some one had mounted to the ceiling. Mr. Jenkins shoved it back in its original position and thought no more of the matter.

Have in Fur Department
The fur department was first visited and it is thought that $3,000 worth of goods were taken away. Among the garments missing are two capes valued at $50 and $90 respectively; two scarfs worth $35, two coats worth $50, four sets of furs worth $45, one coat worth $30, six astrakhan cakes valued at $16 apiece, one set of furs worth $60, one velvet worth $55, and numerous others. It will be some time before the loss can be accurately estimated.

Work of Professionals
The work done in the silk department proved its authors to be professionals who had familiarized themselves with the store and were expert judges of the goods. No employee could have picked out the goods with greater accuracy. Twenty-one racks containing from five to six rolls of the finest black and white goods were entirely depleted; half the contents of ten others were removed; and from one to three rolls taken from twelve of the other compartments.

Taken Away by Boat
The window of the south store looks out upon an alley-way that is entirely shielded from observation by the buildings on three sides and the mills and factories along the west river bank. It is the general belief that the 400 pounds of plunder were loaded into a scow, moored in a little cove back of the store, and that the burglars floated away from the heart of the city to some point along the bank where the goods could be transferred to a wagon.

Front View Shut Off
Although it is the custom to leave a light burning in the store, this affords little protection as the high back-ground used for the display windows cut off a view of the rear portion of the store from South Main street, at least to the casual passerby.

Third of a Series
This is the third of a series of big silk robberies committed in this region within the past few weeks and there is little doubt that the same daring operators that visited Lockford and Madison were the authors of the raid in Janesville Saturday night. It is thought that the and is acting in league with some big silk dealers and that there is at least one woman in their company.

Had No Insurance
The loss is a heavy one for the Bostwicks as they had no burglar insurance. No means will be spared, however, to trace the criminals as yet there are no important clues. A leather strap, evidently used to bind the rolls of silk, and a large hat hanger were found back of the store this morning and a few tracks the river bank where it shelves into the river were discovered.

Strangers Here Last Night
Mrs. Woods who is the proprietor of a restaurant on South Main street says that two well dressed strangers called at her store twice last evening getting something to eat and that they were seen peering into the Bostwick store. Whether or not they are confederates left behind to turn the marauders when the alarm could be sounded, is of course only matter of surmise.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hickey and son of Milwaukee are visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. Hickey's mother on Ringold street. Miss Agnes McNeill spent Sunday with friends in Newark. Mrs. A. S. Currey of Chicago is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Kimberley and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Murdock, at 218 South Main street. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Schumacher and Miss Bessie Schumacher have returned from Chicago where they went to attend the funeral of John F. Coughlan, a nephew of Mrs. Schumacher. Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Manning of Jackson, Michigan, are the guests of Mrs. E. J. Bennett at 56 Cherry street.

MRS. WIGGS NOTED ALL OVER COUNTRY

Production of the Quaint Story at the Myers Grand Should Attract a Big House.

Unless something happens the theatregoers of Janesville will be given a rare treat tomorrow night when the Liebler company presents "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the Myers Grand opera house. This little play comes to Janesville heralded all over the country as the play of the year and the immense advance sale in Milwaukee for the same company next week shows that the Cream City devotees of the stage appreciate a good play when it comes. It might be called an all-star cast when one reads the names that appear on the program.

FUTURE EVENTS

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at opera house Nov. 17.
Wallace Bruce Nov. 17.
Twilight Club Nov. 17.
"Katzman Kids" at opera house Nov. 19.
D. A. R. convention Nov. 19.
Trinity church entertainment Nov. 23.
Epworth League rally at Delavan Nov. 21.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT

Rock River Tent, No. 41, K. O. T. M., at East Side Odd Fellows hall.
Rock River Hive, No. 71, I. O. T. M., at East Side Odd Fellows hall.
Painters', Paperhangers' and Decorators' union at Assembly hall.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

Talk to Lowell.
All millinery goods at cost for 30 days. Mrs. E. Lienau, 217 West Milwaukee St.
Everyone sells a 10c outing flannel but see the style and examine the weight of the flannel we are selling at this price. T. P. Burns.
The clerks of the city are cordially invited to attend an open meeting of the Retail Clerks' union at the Calceonian rooms Tuesday evening, Nov. 17 at 8 o'clock. Committee.
Annual Thanksgiving supper of America Rebekah Social club at East Side Odd Fellows hall Thursday, Nov. 19th.
Ladies' Aid Society: The Ladies' Aid society of the Court Street Methodist church will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. P. Rice, 19 Linden avenue. All are asked to attend.
Rock River Hive: A regular meeting of the Rock River Hive, No. 71, I. O. T. M., will be held this evening at the East Side Odd Fellows hall. After the meeting a social will be held. Members of Rock River Tent, K. O. T. M., are asked to attend.
Janesville Assembly, E. F. N.: A regular meeting of this order will be held at the lodge hall this evening. All members are asked to be present.

Elks Attention: A special meeting of the Janesville Lodge, No. 254, B. P. O. E., will be held this evening. Regular work will be taken up and the gathering will end with a social session.
Pleasant Party: Mrs. F. E. Greene entertained twenty-five ladies at her home on South Main street Saturday night. The diversion of the evening was chess, the first prize being awarded to Mrs. D. J. Luby. The second prize was carried off by Mrs. H. O. Schmidt while the consolation prize went to Mrs. Bennett Ploverright. Delicious refreshments were served and a most enjoyable evening passed by the ladies.

No Blaze at St. Frank Stevens, who is keeping bachelor's quarters for the time being at his home, 164 North High street, this morning placed some wood in the cook-stove oven to dry out. The wood caught fire and some neighbors perceiving the smoke issuing from the kitchen, turned in an alarm. The fire department was not called upon to turn on the hose.

Firemen to Be Pictured
The firemen have arranged an entertainment with Herbert R. Johnson, manager of Chicago's Novel Show Co., for the fire department. One of the features will be a moving picture of the entire department. The firemen have received notice that a special artist will arrive tomorrow for the purpose of taking the pictures. The exhibition run will be made about noon and the public is invited to witness the run, however, should the weather be bad or rainy the run will be postponed until the first clear day, as it is impossible to get good pictures on a dark day, owing to the rapidity with which they are taken, which is at the rate of about forty pictures a second.

Miss Myrtle Richard of Brooklyn and Mr. Ackley and Mr. A. Shattuck of Beloit were guests of Miss Agnes Richards over Sunday.

JOYCE PLEADS NOT GUILTY

TRIAL DECEMBER 1—CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CALENDARS CALLED.

ONLY THREE CRIMINAL CASES

The Usual Number of Civil Suits This Term—Interest Taken in Joyce Trial.

When the case of the state of Wisconsin, plaintiff, vs. Thomas Joyce, defendant, was called in the circuit court this morning, Mr. T. S. Nolan, attorney for Joyce, announced that his client was present in court ready for trial. On being called Joyce pleaded not guilty to the charge brought against him and on motion of District Attorney Jackson the first day of December was the date set for trial. Joyce was taken back to jail where he will remain in Sheriff Appleby's charge until the case is called again.

Alleged Murderer
Joyce is being held from the municipal court charged with having caused the death of Herman Zimmerman last May in a row that occurred in the courthouse park. He was held to the circuit court on evidence presented before Judge Fifield last July. While in the jail he has been a model prisoner.

Many Present
There was a good sized crowd present at the opening of the court. The calendar for November contains about the usual number of civil cases. In the criminal calendar there are but three cases this term: that of the State of Wisconsin vs. Thomas Joyce, State of Wisconsin vs. Alfred Austin, and State of Wisconsin vs. Katharine Egan. Larceny and abusive language are the charges against the defendants of the two latter cases.

Many Cases
There are fifty-three cases filed under "issues of fact for jury," and thirty-three suits under "issues of fact for court." Under "issues of law for court" there are seven cases listed in the calendar. They are Susan Laymore, Adx., vs. Gordon Young, Robert A. Meade et al vs. A. L. Chapman et al, F. H. Kemp vs. St. Mary's congregation, Ralph E. Lidster et al, John C. Lynch vs. Joseph A. Ryan et al, Geo. C. McLean vs. Benj. Bleasdale et al, John Holpen vs. City of Beloit.

The List
The entire calendar is of good size and the following are the cases: Arner vs. C. & N. W. M. Atkinson vs. Carlson et al, M. & M. Bank vs. Chase et al, Barton vs. Fish Wild West Shows, Berlin Machine Works vs. Thornton et al, C. Boehm vs. C. & N. W. Ry., A. Boehm vs. C. & N. W. Ry., Britt vs. Wright, City of Janesville vs. Doe et al, Clemons, ad. vs. Phillips et al, Cox vs. Lackner estate, Palme Lumber Co. vs. Jeffris, Port Huron Co. vs. Fish, American Radiator Co. vs. Moran, Decorative Plant Co. vs. Ran, Tiffany Co-op. Co. vs. Moody et al, Dops Bros. vs. Winch Co., Fifield Bros. Lbr. Co. vs. City of Janesville, Dawson vs. Carpenter estate, Doty vs. C. & N. W. Ry., Dougherty vs. C. M. & St. P. Ry., estate of H. Douglas, Downey, exr. vs. Smith, Egan vs. Egan et al, Emery, ad. vs. Preston, Emery, ad. vs. L. L. Preston et al, Flett et al vs. Jeffris et al, Flynn vs. Flynn et al, Fox vs. Klatt, Garlock vs. Lackner et al, Green vs. Bennett, Hanner vs. Helmenan, Hendee vs. Fairbanks, Morse & Co., Hockett vs. Jackson et al, Hull vs. Codman et al, Hurd vs. Davis et al, Holpen vs. City of Beloit, Johnson vs. Wells et al, Jones vs. Dunn, Keller vs. Carpenter estate, Kemp vs. Neuses estate, Komy vs. St. Mary's Cong., Kenzie et al vs. Ficks, Laymore, adx. vs. Young, Lidster vs. Lidster et al, Lindrow vs. Jones, Lynch vs. Ryan et al, Lynch vs. Ryan et al, Mollwitz vs. City of Janesville, Mattick vs. City of Janesville, Meade et al vs. Chapman et al, Morrow vs. Morrow, M. J. Mosher, will of, Munger vs. Priden, Murdock vs. Woodstock, McAlpin vs. Hannah, McLean vs. Bleasdale, McLeneagan, trustee, vs. Carlo, McFadden vs. McFadden, Neubauer vs. Neubauer, Oakley vs. Oakley, Otis vs. Jones, Parmeter vs. Moses, E. Plunkett, est. of, Rau vs. Marzluft et al, Rettler vs. Lindstrom, Riley vs. Courtney, Anna Record vs. Evansville, Rock Co., Ag. Assn., Eben Record vs. Evansville, Rock Co., Ag. Assn., Stark vs. Thompson, Schenck vs. Schenck, Seeger vs. Seeger, Short vs. Moore et al, Shumway vs. N. W. Nat. L. Ins. Co., Smith vs. C. M. & St. P. Ry., Salmon et al vs. City of Beloit et al, Thomas vs. Kls. of Honor, Tolles vs. Town of Center, Town of Rock vs. C. M. & St. P. Ry., Town of Beloit vs. Helmenan, Tucker vs. Tucker, Vankirk vs. Burns, Welch, admx., Rock Co. Nat. Bank, Welch vs. Heller, Wheeler, admx., vs. Berlin Mch. Wks., Whitnall vs. Carpenter ex., Wilkins vs. Goodman, Winkley vs. Decker, Young vs. B. D. L. & J. Ry., Young vs. Young.

Fancy Northern Spy apples, $2.90 bbl.
We have quite a number of bbls. of Peck's pleasant and old time, much sought for apples at $2.75 bbl. Very large Bellflower apples, 45c pl.

Old fashioned Sheep's Nose or Gillflower apples, 45c pl.
Chokeo Spys and Baldwins, by the pl., 25c and 30c.
New Florida russet oranges, 35c doz.

Fancy hothouse leaf lettuce, Fancy wax beans, 18c lb.
Pure cream puffs daily, 30c doz.
The best home made fried cakes you ever ate, 12c doz.

Boston River genuine Mocha and Java coffee used largely at social functions, 38c lb.
Buckwheat cake weather is now here and we have the best makes in stock.

Strictly pure maple sugar and syrup.
Home made potato bread has no equal, 6c a loaf or 6 for 25c.

GRUBB PRODUCE CO.

BASKET BALL AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Blues and Reds Both Win From the Whites, on Saturday Last.

That young boys can play basket ball was demonstrated last Saturday morning when the second series of the Y. M. C. A. Junior basket ball schedule was played. The boys are beginning to show development in the game by their quick thought and action. Their team work is surprising at times and would do credit to men of experience. The result of the games was: Whites, 6; Blues, 10; and Whites, 0; Reds, 19. Next Saturday will complete this short schedule and the games promise to be good as they will decide the winner, which at present is uncertain.

LEFT MANY RUGS TO HER FRIENDS

Will of Mrs. George W. Dunbar Made Known—Had Large Collection of Turkish Rugs.

The will of Mrs. George W. Dunbar, who recently died in this city, has been opened and it is found that many of her friends were remembered and Miss Augusta Ruger will receive the sum of seven thousand dollars. Mrs. Dunbar owned an extensive collection of Turkish rugs and the gathering of these afforded her considerable pleasure. She owned quite a collection and they were considered very valuable. The greater part of these rugs she has left to her Janesville friends, one in particular, an especially valuable specimen, will become the property of an east side lady. The Rev. Dunbar has decided to move east and will make his future home at Fortress Monroe, Virginia, with relatives.

Cold Weather Wearing Apparel

Fleeced Blankets, 70c to $1.20
Bed Quilts, 80c to $1.75
Ladies' Black Wool Mitts, 10c
Babies' Red and Black Mitts, 5c
Infants' Woolen Knit Jackets, 35c
Children's Woolen Hoods, 35c to $1.00
Big line of Ladies' Cotton Flannel Sleeping Robes, 65c to 85c
Men's Canton Flannel Night Shirts, 75c
Full line of Ladies' and Children's Fleeced lined Black Hose—Good Values.
Men's fine Black Wool Hose, worth 35c, 20c pair

THE FAIR.

Frozen Delicacies.

Owing to the fact that we operate a creamery in the city, we have always on hand large quantities of fresh cream daily, thus we are enabled to supply the varying demands of our trade. We are especially well prepared to supply any kind of plain ices and ice creams. Brick, Fritted Brick only fifty cents per quart. One quart will serve eight people.

SHURTLEFF GO.

The 20th Century Housewife

knows that upon the excellence of her bread and meats depends the general health and happiness of her family. You can get clean, tender and juicy meats at Carlin's ward store each and every day of the week. Liter Tuesday and fish Fridays.

The Bread

question is easily solved. Many a famous cook owns her success largely to Gold Medal Flour. If you have never tried it, why not do so? It's $12.50 a sack. Government tests show 95 per cent. digestibility. Deliveries to any part of city. Open evenings until 8 p. m.

J. F. CARLE, Washington St. Grocer.
Old Phone 217. New Phone 200
Branch Office: Janesville Steam Laundry

THE WISEST PEOPLE

are those who see to it that they get their money's worth. And when you buy COAL you want COAL, not dirt and slag. Give us a trial order and you'll get your money's worth of the best coal mined.

QUALITY—WEIGHT—PRICE
Guaranteed.

Peoples Coal Co.

SANFORD SOVERHILL, President
E. M. CALKINS, Vice-President
S. B. HEDDLES, Sec. & Treas.
B. B. BAKER, Manager
Yard, 9 Adams St., New Phone 203.
City Office, Redner Drug Co., Both Phones 178.

TALK OF ANOTHER INTER-URBAN LINE

C. B. SMITH PLANS ROAD TO MILTON AND NORTH.

WOULD THE BUY CITY LINE

Then Build to Milton, Fort Atkinson, and Later to Fond du Lac.

It is stated on good authority from Milton that an electric railroad from Fond du Lac to Janesville is being contemplated and that the line will run by way of Milton and will touch at Lake Koshkonong near Hoard's hotel. It is also said it will run through Fort Atkinson, Jefferson and Watertown.

Milton Excited.
Milton business men are said to be excited over the prospects of the proposed line. A Mr. C. B. Smith said to be an engineer in charge of the proposed line was in Milton on Friday last investigating the proposed route. It is on his authority the story was made public although he did not say who were behind the company in their venture.

Has Been Here
Last week C. B. Smith called on several Janesville business men and talked of his proposed route and the line he purposed building. He gave the general impression that he either had bought the Janesville Street railway from Mr. Blabon, had an option on it or that he hoped to get an option. That he purposed extending this line to Milton and later to Ft. Atkinson and Jefferson touching at Lake Koshkonong.

Has an Option
It was learned this afternoon that Mr. Smith has an option on the Janesville road. The plan, however, is not considered feasible by business men of the city with whom Mr. Smith talked and it is not thought probable that anything definite will be done about the matter.

Testing Steamer: This afternoon the fire department tested the steam engine, and the apparatus worked to perfection. This will be the last test before winter sets in, and is made to insure the efficiency of the steamer in case a large fire should occur in the cold months.
Roy Lamphere is the guest of the Mary Kimball mission.

Go od Coal

is bought here at $8.70 per ton. Dry Oak Wood at $7.50 per cord.

Send in your orders; I fill them promptly.

F. A. TAYLOR.
Both Phones 201.

The...

Kingsbury Derby...

A very nobby style.

November Blocks
are here

T. J. ZIEGLER CLOTHING CO.

Laundering

is a clean business; we make it so. We have lightened the burdens of hundreds of homes and will continue to do so. The shirt waist girl is our friend because we laundry her wearing apparel to suit the most particular.

RIVERSIDE STEAM LAUNDRY

Both Phones.

Boxes AND Barrels

are arriving almost daily, and we are making special window displays of their contents. As some of the numbers cannot be duplicated, early buyers get first choice. It may pay you to keep your eye on our Milwaukee St. show window.

Hall, Sayles, & Field

Reliable Jewelers.

The Glorious Bird—

Not the eagle but the turkey— isn't worth much for your Thanksgiving dinner unless it is well cooked and you have a good fire. That's where we come in— Coal that will burn, make a hot fire and make life worth the living.

Janesville Coal Co.,
Phone 89. Office, Riverside Laundry, Yards, South River & Oak Sts.

Sandal Wood Perfume.

A fashionable and lasting odor. It is the kind our customers come back after.

Price, $1.00 per ounce.
Ask to sample it.

Don't fail to see our beautiful line of Holiday Perfumes in Fancy Boxes before you buy. From 25c. to $6.00.

When you are chilly try our Hot Beef Tea, 5c

SMITH'S PHARMACY.

Kodaks and kodak supplies
2 registered pharmacists.

A Chance

to get a good thing in a good place. We offer home made candles at the lowest possible price and the highest possible quality. Our home made taffy is delightfully delicious at 9c. or 3 lbs. for 25c.
Home made bon bons 30c.
" fudges 20c.
" nut caramels 20c.
" bitter sweets 30c.
A special 50c. honey comb chips at 30c.
Try us and be satisfied

ALLIE RAZOOK'S
"56c Delicacies"

Gas Lamps

Fancy Glass

Welsbach Burners.

We invite you to call

NEW GAS LIGHT CO.,

CRALL'S

Livery and Carriage Line
Day and Night Calls. Up-to-Date Turnouts. Warrenton Service.
113 - E. Milwaukee St. Phone 193

WARSHIP AWES
SANTO DOMINGO

COUNTRY IN THROES OF WAR

Revolution Follows the Exposure of the Depletion of the Treasury by Ruler After Americans Cave Funds to Pay National Debt.

Santo Domingo, Nov. 16.—Harassed on all sides by revolutionists who have been bombarding the capital, the Dominican government has granted the demands of the United States made through Minister Powell. It did not agree to arbitrate the issues arising over the Santo Domingo Improvement Company, however, until the American cruiser Baltimore steamed into the harbor of the beleaguered city. The claim involved is the national debt of the republic, amounting to $30,000,000, more than two-thirds of which is held by the improvement company, an American corporation.

Mr. Powell's work is regarded as a great victory for the Americans. The United States had taken up the improvement company's case and sought payment of its claims.

President Wos y Gil and his advisers resisted payment on the ground that a former president contracted the debt and stole the money. Finally, however, the United States and Santo Domingo signed a protocol whereby the claim was to be submitted to arbitration. But after that event the Wos y Gil government declined to carry out the provisions of the protocol.

Mr. Powell made several demands that the government fulfill its obligations. While the rebels were hurrying shell and shot into the city and its forts last Thursday President Wos y Gil notified Mr. Powell that it would carry out the protocol and appoint arbitrators as therein provided. This act, it is said, will bind the revolutionists to the compact should they overthrow the present regime of the republic.

Practically the whole of the claim was contracted by Ulysses Heurax, the Nero of Santo Domingo, who came into power in 1882 and was president, congress, constitution, law and the courts for eighteen years, or until he was assassinated by Ramon Caceres, whose father had been poisoned fifteen years earlier by Heurax's orders. Heurax involved the country in debt and in 1892 the Santo Domingo Improvement company was organized by Americans to assist him. The company loaned him vast sums and was showered with presidential favors and given a monopoly of the nation's business.

All the improvements in the island were made by this company, which, to insure repayment of loans made to Heurax, was allowed to administer the nation's finances, collect the revenues and provide the budget of $60,000 a month.

Jimenez came into power after Heurax and the robberies of the public treasury by the republic's Nero came to light. They caused a revolution, Jimenez was exiled and Horatio Vasquez became president. From that time until now the government has been trying to repudiate the claims of the American syndicate.

United States Minister Powell's victory is doubly disheartening to many staunch supporters of the government because of other straits in which it finds itself. Jimenez has regained influence, though absent, and his forces beset the capital.

SHOOTS WIFE; KILLS HIMSELF

Sloux City Man Expires, but Spouse Lingers With Wound.

Sloux City, Iowa, Nov. 16.—Because his wife had reiterated her decision not to live with him, James Dunn, a saloonkeeper, shot her and killed himself. Mrs. Dunn had left her husband, who was a young man, because of his drinking habits. He arranged to meet her at the home of his father, 1406 Sixth street. Both kept the appointment. The two were alone in a room and began quarrelling soon. "You'll live with me or not at all," Dunn was heard to shout. He drew a revolver and fired at close range. The bullet struck a large button on the woman's waist, glanced off and entered the body near the heart. Dunn shot himself twice in the head. Mrs. Dunn's chances of recovery are slight.

Peary Seeks Ship.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Commander Peary, U. S. N., has written from England to the German navy department inquiring if the German antarctic ship Gauss is for sale. It is assumed that he thinks she might be available for his next north pole expedition.

Check Uprising of Tribes.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The governor of Windhuk, German Southwest Africa, says the attempts which are now being made to suppress the rising of the Bondelswarts tribesmen at Warmbad will probably be successful.

Woman Is Fatally Burned.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 16.—Nellie Morris was fatally burned here in a gasoline explosion. She is the mother of two small children.

Constipation causes two-thirds of all sickness in the world. Why suffer when Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well? 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy.

Mrs. E. C. Johnson is visiting her daughter in Fond Du Lac.

Man and Wife in Jail.

Shelbyville, Ind., Nov. 16.—James Talbert, husband of Mrs. Hattie Talbert, who was convicted and sentenced for the murder of Eva Cochran's baby, was sentenced to prison for robbing George W. Patterson of $16.

Burglars Use Dynamite to Get at Money and Stamps in Strongbox.

Eldorado, Ill., Nov. 16.—The post-office at Galatia, Ill., was broken into Saturday night and the safe dynamited and robbed. The postmistress, Mrs. Upchurch, says there were several hundred dollars in money and stamps stolen. The burglars secured tools in Naugle's blacksmith shop. They left the tools in the postoffice. There were three men in the gang. Bloodhounds have been put on their track.

BEAVERS TRANSFERS WEALTH

Indicted Ex-Official Gives Real Estate to His Wife.

New York, Nov. 16.—George W. Beavers, former chief of the division of salaries and allowances of the post-office department, who is under bail on two indictments found in Brooklyn and Washington and charging fraud, has transferred his Brooklyn real estate to his wife. It followed closely the appeal of habeas corpus proceedings in Beavers' behalf.

Bank Robbers Fail.

Mapleton, Iowa, Nov. 16.—Three robbers held up the night watchman of this town and, after taking from him his revolver and jail keys, they locked him in a cell in the jail. Then they broke into the First State bank, and, after prying off the outer door, were unable to get inside the strong box containing $20,000.

Americans Get Big Contract.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The Pennsylvania Steel company has been awarded the contract for 20,000 tons of steel rails for the Meo. railway, in competition with the Krupp and several other German and Belgian establishments. The price is $22.88 per ton delivered at Beloit.

Telephone Official Is Killed.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 16.—Frank Lester, superintendent of the Home Telephone company at Urbana, was electrocuted there while working at the top of a pole. His wife witnessed the accident and was prostrated.

Lincoln's Schoolmate Dies.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 16.—J. W. Lamar, who claimed to be the last surviving schoolmate of Abraham Lincoln, died Nov. 14 at Buffalo, Spenser county, aged 85.

Brings Wreck Victims.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—A special train arrived at Brandon bearing one dead and four injured, victims of a wreck on the Kirkell, a branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Fire Destroys Flour Mills.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 16.—Fire destroyed the Horton flour mills and thousands of bushels of wheat; also the Bradford planing mill, adjoining. The loss is $54,000.

INJUNCTION AGAINST HUSBAND

Wife Gets Restraining Order to Keep Him From Table.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 16.—Alice D. Squire has grown tired of feeding her husband, Bert D. Squire, and she has taken a novel way of letting him know that he can no longer shove his feet under her mahogany three times a day. Mrs. Squire filed a suit for divorce and asked for an injunction to prevent her husband from eating at her table. She averred that she has been supporting the family and that her husband has been eating regularly the food she purchased by her own work, and that he has repeatedly refused to work or in any way help to support her or the family. Judge Lawrence at once granted a temporary restraining order.

MOUSE STARTS CHURCH PANIC

Women Grow Excited While Deacon Vainly Pursues Intruder.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 16.—A mouse created an incontinent panic in the First Baptist church. The animal ran down the aisle and back again, and the women were so excited the pastor had to request somebody to put the mouse out, and a deacon was called upon to perform the service. He got the mouse in a corner and threw a coat over it, but it appeared once more and the women were not reassured. After the appearance of the mouse the sermon made little impression on the ladies. They shrank into the seats and cast furtive glances from side to side, ready to scream at the approach of the enemy.

Free Mission League Meets.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 16.—The Illinois Swedish Free Mission association met here in state convention. Officers were elected as follows: President, G. A. Young, Chicago; vice president, A. F. Nelson, Moline; secretary, G. E. Johnson, Rockford; vice secretary, C. E. Nelson, Lake View; treasurer, Andrew Anderson, Chicago.

Royal Yacht Coming to America.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—A dispatch from Kiel says the imperial yacht Hohenzollern has been made ready to go to sea in February. Her destination is announced to be North America, but what personage will sail on her has not been made known.

Man and Wife in Jail.

Shelbyville, Ind., Nov. 16.—James Talbert, husband of Mrs. Hattie Talbert, who was convicted and sentenced for the murder of Eva Cochran's baby, was sentenced to prison for robbing George W. Patterson of $16.

POSTOFFICE SAFE IS LOOTED

Burglars Use Dynamite to Get at Money and Stamps in Strongbox.

Eldorado, Ill., Nov. 16.—The post-office at Galatia, Ill., was broken into Saturday night and the safe dynamited and robbed. The postmistress, Mrs. Upchurch, says there were several hundred dollars in money and stamps stolen. The burglars secured tools in Naugle's blacksmith shop. They left the tools in the postoffice. There were three men in the gang. Bloodhounds have been put on their track.

Woman Is Fatally Burned.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 16.—Nellie Morris was fatally burned here in a gasoline explosion. She is the mother of two small children.

Constipation causes two-thirds of all sickness in the world. Why suffer when Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well? 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy.

Mrs. E. C. Johnson is visiting her daughter in Fond Du Lac.

Man and Wife in Jail.

Shelbyville, Ind., Nov. 16.—James Talbert, husband of Mrs. Hattie Talbert, who was convicted and sentenced for the murder of Eva Cochran's baby, was sentenced to prison for robbing George W. Patterson of $16.

LODGE CALENDAR.

Masonic.

Western Star Lodge, No. 14, F. and A. M.—1st and 3rd Tuesday.
Jamesville Lodge, No. 55, F. and A. M.—2nd and 4th Monday.
Jamesville Chapter, No. 5, R. A. M.—1st and 3rd Thursday.
Jamesville Commandery, No. 2, K. T.—2nd and 4th Thursday.
Jamesville Chapter, No. 69, O. E. S.—2nd and 4th Wednesday.
I. O. O. F.
Wisconsin Lodge, No. 14.—Every Wednesday.
Jamesville City Lodge, No. 90.—Every Tuesday.

Rock River Encampment, No. 3.—1st and 3rd Friday.
Canton Lodge, No. 9, Patriarchs Militant.—2nd and 4th Friday.
America Lodge, No. 20, D. of R.—2nd and 4th Saturday.
Social and Benefit Club.—1st Thursday.
Jamesville Lodge, No. 171, D. of R.—2nd and 4th Thursday.
Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, Branch, No. 60.—1st Sunday.

Elks.

Jamesville Lodge, No. 254.—Every Tuesday.

G. A. R.

W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20.—2nd and 4th Friday.

W. H. Sargent Corps, No. 21, W. H. C.—Every Alternate Tuesday.

Hibernians.

Division, No. 1.—2nd Sunday.

Knights of the Globe.
Jamesville Chapter, No. 15.—2nd and 4th Tuesday.

Knights of the Maccabees.
Rock River Tent, No. 51.—1st and 3rd Monday.

Rock River Hive, No. 71, Ladies of the Maccabees.—1st and 3rd Monday.

Knights of Pythias.
Oriental Lodge, No. 22.—Meets every Friday.

Modern Woodmen of America.
Florence Camp No. 38.—2nd and 4th Monday.
Crystal Camp, No. 132.—2nd and 4th Wednesday.

National Union

Jamesville Council, No. 238.—1st Tuesday.

United Workmen.

Oliver Branch, No. 35.—2nd and 4th Friday.

Oliver Lodge, No. 27, Degree of Honor.—1st and 3rd Wednesday.

Laurel Lodge, No. 1.—Degree of Honor.—1st and 3rd Thursday.

Badger Council, No. 223, Royal Arcanum.—2nd and 4th Monday.

Independent Order of Foresters.—4th Monday.

Mystic Workers of the World.—1st and 3rd Tuesday.

Omega Council, No. 214, Royal League.—1st and 3rd Tuesday.

Yonkers Catholic Order of Foresters.—2nd and 4th Tuesday.

Beavers.—2nd and 4th Tuesday.

Colony, No. 2, B. R. F. F.—4th Tuesday.

St. Patrick's Court, No. 318.—1st and 3rd Wednesday.

Crystal Camp, No. 132, B. N. A.—1st and 3rd Wednesday.

Rock River Grange, P. of H.—1st and 3rd Thursday.

Rock River Court, No. 1, Tribe of Ben Hur.—2nd and 4th Thursday.

Knights of Columbus.—1st and 3rd Thursday.

Peoples' Lodge, No. 460, I. O. G. T.—Every 3rd Friday.

German City Verein, No. 31, Germania Unterwiesing.—3rd Friday.

Jamesville Council, No. 103, U. C. T.—1st and 3rd Saturday.

Jamesville Assembly of Equitable Fraternal Union, No. 171, meets the first and third Mondays of each month at the Caledonian hall, Carle block.

Labor Organizations.

Journeymen Barbers' Union.—1st Monday.

Painters, Paperhangers & Decorators Union.—1st and 3rd Monday.

Journeymen Tailors' Union.—2nd Monday.

Leather Workers.—1st and 3rd Tuesday.

Electricians' Union.—1st and 3rd Tuesday.

Retail Clerks' Union.—3d Tuesday.

Machinists' Union.—2nd and 4th Tuesday.

Federal Labor Union.—1st and 3rd Wednesday.

Typographical Union.—1st Wednesday.

Trades Council, Building Trades Council.—2nd and 4th Wednesday.

Woodworkers' Union.—4th Thursday.

Clear Makers Union.—2nd Wednesday.

Shoemaker & Shoe Workers' Union.—1st Thursday.

Plumbers' Union.—1st and 3rd Thursday.

Teamsters' Union.—1st and 3rd Thursday.

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' Union.—1st and 3rd Friday.

Carpenters' Union.—1st and 3rd Friday.

Women's Union Label League.—2nd and 4th Friday.

Stone Cutters' Association of North America.—3rd Friday.

Bricklayers' Union.—1st and 3rd Saturday.

Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.—1st and 3rd Saturday.

Opens Power Dam.

Mishawaka, Ind., Nov. 16.—For the first time Saturday morning water shot over the huge thirty-foot dam built here by the late Millionaire Reiger and New York capitalists at a cost of $1,500,000. Machinery will convert the 10,000-horsepower into electrical energy for transmission to four cities.

Archbishop to Be Named.

Rome, Nov. 16.—In vatican circles it is expected that the first meeting of the congregation of the propaganda, in which American affairs will be discussed, will be held Dec. 7, when an archbishop of Milwaukee and a bishop of Columbus will be selected.

Belgian Statesman Is Dead.

Brussels, Nov. 16.—The death is announced here of the Duc d'Ursel, president of the senate.

Paralyzed in Football Game.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 16.—Ray Booth was badly injured in a game of football between two local teams here. He was taken from the bottom of a pile of players and removed to a hospital. The lower part of his body is completely paralyzed.

Player's Spine Is Hurt.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 16.—Robert Sinclair, a student of the Normal school, was probably fatally injured in a football game at Pontiac and the State Normal university. His spine was injured.

Schoolboy Is Badly Hurt.

Carthage, Ind., Nov. 16.—James Smith of the Carthage high school football team had three ribs broken and was internally injured in a game with the Shelbyville high school team.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1903.

50c. Bottle Free.

When Medicine Fails, Try Liquozone—We'll Pay for it.

Medicine must fail in a germ trouble, because medicine never kills germs. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally.

Liquozone—liquid oxygen—is the only way that any man knows to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Its results in a germ trouble are absolutely certain, for it always destroys the cause of the trouble. To prove this—if you need it—we will gladly pay for a bottle and give it to you to try.

Only Oxygen.

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen—no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Pauli, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Liquozone does that. We spend 14 days in making every bottle, but the result is liquid oxygen—a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a germ that it cannot kill.

Oxygen is a tonic to you—the most essential element of life. Its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. Nothing else is so good for you. But germs are vegetables; and this excess of oxygen—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Paid $100,000.

for the rights to Liquozone for the United States. We did this after testing it for two years in 3,000 difficult cases, and proving that the results were inevitable. We state this price to show the value of Pauli's discovery. To-day the best physicians, the world over, use Liquozone alone in any germ disease. If you suffer from a germ trouble, you must use it, too; else rely on Nature alone to get well.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Asthma
Abscess—Anemia
Bronchitis
Blood Poison
Bright's Disease
Bowel Troubles
Coughs—Colds
Consumption
Colic—Croup
Constipation
Catarrh—Cancer
Dysentery—Diarrhea
Dandruff—Dropsy
Dyspepsia

Hay Fever—Influenza
Kidney Diseases
La Grippe
Leucorrhea
Liver Troubles
Malaria—Neuritis
Many Heart Troubles
Piles—Pneumonia
Pleurisy—Quinsy
Rheumatism
Skin Diseases
Scrofula—Syphilis
Stomach Troubles
Throat Troubles

50c. Bottle Free.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on your local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay your druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c. and $1.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON

For this offer may not appear again. Fill out the blanks and mail it to the Liquozone Co., 221-223 E. Kinzie St., Chicago.

My disease is.....

I have never tried Liquozone, but if you will supply me a 50c. bottle free I will take it.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

(Copyright, 1903, by Mary Hallock Foote.)

I.
A GIRL WHOSE NAME IS FAITH.

On the trail which crosses Sunset peak from the gold camps of Eagle and Murray to the mines in Big Horn gulch is a prospect tunnel located under the name of the Black Dwarf.

In the summer of 1892 two men were working it and sharing the cabin of mud-chinked logs that made a trifling excrescence on the profile of the hill into which the tunnel of the Black Dwarf retreated. The senior partner and more experienced miner of the firm was a big, valiant, hilarious Irishman, Mike McGowan, a man of his hands, yet not disdaining weapons; the other was a young gentleman of prepossessing appearance and uncertain antecedents, who had come into the partnership rather on the strength of a small capital than of his muscle. Mike called him "Little Darcie;" but this must be understood as a term of endearment, for Darcie's inches were as many as Mike's, though his pounds avoirdupois were fewer.

Mike had learned that his partner was of Scottish family and English education, and that he had traveled in various parts of the world. He was easy-tempered, and clever in ways in which Mike had the skill of a bear; but he was slack about camp work and cleaning up after meals. Mike's acquaintances said he was too "toney" for a miner. People called him Darcie because he seemed to expect it; but doubts were entertained in cautious circles as to its being his name, or all of it—caution, not to say suspicion, being the common attitude in the summer of 1892 of persons who were not sure of one another's sympathies and business in the Coeur d'Alene.

The situation of the Black Dwarf is exceedingly shy. The crypt-dark entrance to the tunnel gives upon a narrow ledge formed by an excavation of the hill; the trail crosses this ledge, after diving down toward it with extreme and slippery suddenness, between the tunnel mouth and the dump. From above or from below the humble plant is equally invisible; but all travelers by the old trail know of the Black Dwarf, and on the last night of June, closing in thunderous and wild with rain, two riders, overtaken on their way from Canon Creek, came knocking at the door of the cabin.

Imagine the consternation, delight, embarrassment and concern of the two hosts of the Black Dwarf when it was seen that one of their guests was the lovely young lady of the Big Horn, and that her first imperative need, after shelter from the storm, was a total change of clothing.

She stood beside her father, the manager of the famous Big Horn—a commonplace man who borrowed his importance from the mine—in front of the fire which McGowan was heaping with fuel, while Darcie, the only member of the firm possessed of a trunk, searched wildly among its contents for any garment remotely suggestive of the needs and proportions of a nymph-like girl. Her glowing cheeks told of a rough encounter with the wind and rain, her eyes beamed intelligence and mirth, her lips smiled pleasure and sympathy and appreciation. She was an adorable girl.

In despair Darcie placed at her disposal his entire wardrobe, including his boots, and she made clever selection of a Turkish bathrobe, a red and white Navajo blanket for drapery and a set of deplorable flannels which Mistress Malony, of Gem, had soaped and punched and kneaded till no vestige remained of their original size, sex or condition.

"It's better than going to bed, like a naughty child," laughed the girl. She rescued the situation from much of its awkwardness by her lightness of touch and her practical, womanly frankness, which rather abashed the more conventional young Briton, while her beauty and girlish rapture in the night's adventure quite won to his head.

Mike, in a trice, rigged a rope across the low, far end of the cabin, and strung upon it a line of camp blankets, to make a dressing-room for the lady, who retired to her bower as damp as Undine, and as gay, but to a modern Hildebrand more entrancing because so entirely human.

Meantime, in the men's part of the cabin a most distressing complication was waxing to a crisis. Mike was cooking supper, sitting on his heels in front of the mud hearth, with his old hat on his head, taking it off occasionally to use it as a holder, in shifting his saucepans over the coals. Darcie was laying the table in a high ecstasy, brought to earth only by the discovery that there was no more butter, and by a renewed sense of the deplorable state of the Black Dwarf's table service, the dinginess of its tin-plate, and the grittiness of its cutlery. Manager Bingham, that great personage, dressed partly in his own clothes, partly in the lendings of his hosts, was lapsing deeper and deeper, in his chair by the fire, into a state of semi-obliviousness from fatigue—and other causes.

Mike looked at him critically, and listened to his remarks, which were infrequent and far from lucid; but he kept his suspicions to himself for the present, and went on with his cooking. "Mike," asked Darcie, who was full of his own share in the entertainment, "where is the cup and saucer?"

"The which?" said Mike. "The china cup and saucer that I bought at the hospital fair. You needn't ask 'which' when there never was but one. Where have you hid the pieces?"

"Wisha, don't bother me wid' your cups and saucers. I've me bacon to fry, and the rain is peltin' down the chimney in me pan, and it's shpittin' fat like blazes upon the lady's habit-skirt. Take hold, and set back the chair a bit."

"You are the worst old duffer of a cook!" groaned Darcie, scolding Mike softly, on account of the neighboring guest. "You have sliced the bacon as if it was ham. Go hang yourself up somewhere out of the way! Find me that cup and saucer!"

"If it's for herself"—Mike glanced toward the screen of blankets—"she'll have to drink her coffee out of a tin, or fave it alone, God bless her! The saucer's broke—it's the true I'm tellin' ye—and the cup, barrin' the handle, ye'll find in the chink at the left av the chimney; it's got me boot-grease in it."

"It would be money in my pocket if you'd never been born," Darcie informed his senior partner, for the hundredth time that summer; and Mike duly responded: "Faith, an' it would be in me own! And what's the matter wid' tin, that she cannot put her lips to it?" he remonstrated. "Tin is wan av the precious metals, these days; there's a howlin' duty on it. A poor man's dead bruk if he buys a four-bit dinner-pail to pack his cowd vittles in. Mabby this cup, now, is made av that Amerrykin tin they do be blowin' about." He took a murky tin cup from the table, and polished it on the leg of his trousers.

"The world knows it's cost its weight in gold to produce it, and who wouldn't be proud to drink out av it!"

"Oh, stow your tin-horn racket!" Darcie requested. "Save it for election, keep it for the man in a tin hat. Don't waste it on a British free trader, who hasn't got a vote."

But now the drowsiness of Mr. Bingham was invading his whole system and becoming progressive and alarming. Darcie studied him anxiously, and thought that he recognized the symptoms; Mike said that he "smelt it on him when first he come into the room."

"He's exceeded himself, and I hear it's a habit he has. He's tuk wan too many, or maybe more than wan too many, to counteract the wettin' he got; it's risin' on him, like yeast-powder, wid the hate av the room."

"How's he going to get home?" was the next question, and a very serious one, in view of the daughter.

"He'll not get home the night, unless he's fetched," said Mike.

"Well, you needn't give it all away to her, in that stage-ghost whisper of yours," admonished Darcie.

"He alsy; she can't hear a word we're sayin', wid the torrent slushin' down the gulch and the t'under rowlin'. I never heard the like o' that in the Cor de Lanes! It aquals the boss stormy y'all get in the Saw Tooth. Hark now! The mountains is crackin' their old nob's together. Sure it can't hold long like this."

"This is a horrible business, Mike. Help me here; we must move his chair back into the shadow; he's not pretty to look at."

"He'll not look pretty to her when she'll be comin' out to her supper; a hoary-headed spectacle he'll be. We'd best get him into the bed at wanst."

"It will be the last of him, Mike, if we do."

"First and last, there's no more power in him. He's shuccumbed to the drink; and a pity for 'in, a man av his age, not to know better how much he can carry. And a cruel shame it is for her, alone wid the baste and the two strange men av us for company. I dunno what will she do wid herself, an' the night comin' on, and five melle o' nasty grade bechune her and the mine."

Darcie went to the window and looked out into the storm. "I think it's liftin' a bit; it's lighter, surely, in the east. What time does the moon get up?"

"Wan hour later than she rose last evenin', if ye remimber what time that was," said Mike. He was dishing the bacon artistically on a granite-iron plate, and now he tossed some sliced cold potatoes into the remaining fat for frying. "Shall I touch her up wid a weenty taste av onion, or no?"

But at this moment the lady put back her curtain an inch or two, and called brightly: "Father!"

The two young men looked at each other in guilty silence. "Father, dear!" the fresh voice repeated, a trifle impatiently.

"Father, dear," says she. To her, lad! Shpake up to her 'Father dear,'" whispered Mike.

Darcie felt the perspiration start as he stepped into the breach.

"Your father's asleep, Miss a-Bingham; quite sound, you know. He's awfully comfortable. Do you wish me to speak to him?"

"Oh, no. Pray do not disturb him," said the voice, sweetly. "It's only my things; are they at all dry yet? I'm such a fright, I can't bear to come out as I am."

Darcie examined the lady's garments, respectful deprecation in the tips of his fingers, and reported that the habit was dry, but that the boots were not yet fit to put on. If only there were something—anything—they could dare to offer her, that she could possibly keep on her feet!

"Show her me 'herring-boxes,' Darcie, dear," exclaimed Mike, in an ecstatic aside. "And your own little shippers wid the hobnails. 'Tis a pity we couldn't fit her out, wid the tons av shoe-leather that's in it!"

Darcie bethought him of a tiny pair of squaw's moccasins which he had purchased, as a specimen of native aboriginal work, to send home. These he produced in triumph, and the curtain dropped upon the lady's toilet.

With the rain still cutting off the sound of their voices, Darcie commanded, sternly: "Lend a hand here, Mike; we must get him out of sight at once. Mind, now, we are doing the simple-minded act. You don't know when a man has had too many pegs, neither do I. The old beggar's asleep, d'you see? Collapsed, played out, stupefied with fatigue."

"Asleep, or dead, if ye prefer't. But don't think that ye'll kape it from her. If she has been two months in it and has never seen him the way he is now, thin miracles is happenin' in the Cor de Lanes, and I'm a livin' witness."

"Bear a hand, now! Have wid ye. Steady, me boy!"—to Mr. Bingham, who roused as they lifted him, and attempted to enter into conversation with his bearers. "Kape a shill tongue—lettin' your own cat out of the bag!"

(To be Continued.)

PING
PONG SETS
FREE..

Here is your chance.

Make the long winter nights short.

You cannot afford to miss it.

We have a limited quantity of these sets and while they last we will give one free with every purchase of two bounds of our Plantation Coffee at 25c. a lb.

This is our regular 25c. coffee and already one of our best sellers.

We want you to get better acquainted with it.

Phone 9.

DEDRICK BROS.

Sound Sleep Depends
On Good Digestion

Insomnia is a result of dyspepsia.

Do you sleep well?

The suffering stomach sets your nerves on edge, banishes sleep and leaves you a prey to dark thoughts and a terrible, oppressive sense of impending calamity.

You become thin and scrawny; your face is pinched and sallow. Your food distresses you. In the morning a bad taste and bad breath.

We have a remedy we know will correct these conditions.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will make your stomach well and strong.

They will quiet your nerves; fill your veins with rich, red blood; brighten your eyes; put flesh on your bones; make your complexion clear and fresh, and bring you sound, refreshing sleep.

We guarantee they will relieve you of the load that is breaking you down physically and mentally.

Because of our positive knowledge of the many wonderful cures Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets have effected, and to make you feel our confidence in them, we promise to give you back your money without question if you say they have not cured you.

Five Years'
Suffering
Ended

"For five years I suffered acutely with indigestion, my principal complaints being headaches and a feeling of fullness and distress after eating. Combined with this I suffered severely with a belching of gas and a general run down condition. I took the Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets and I cannot say too much for what they accomplished for me. My headaches and all the accompanying ills have entirely disappeared. I sleep well and my general health has improved 100 per cent.—Mas. J. Strout, 253 Genesee St., Buffalo, N. Y."

Price 25 cents. Sold only at our store or by mail.

SMITH DRUG CO.

"Pup: A Likeable Outcast"

Just a story of some whole-souled country folk and an outcast dog, but one of that kind which is full of human interest—the kind of interest that gives one a desire to read other stories like it.

"A Fussy, Awkward, Black-and-Yellow Outcast."

METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE

for NOVEMBER

11 other
Short Storiesthe best fiction
of the monthAll
News-stands

(A12)

R. H. RUSSELL, PUBLISHER, 3, 5 AND 7 WEST 29TH STREET, NEW YORK

SEE Wants ADS PAGE 4

DAY-OLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY SUMMARIZED

Important Items of News at Home and Abroad Told in Short, Concise Paragraphs.

DOMESTIC.

William Ziegler of New York, the millionaire president of the baking powder trust, has been indicted at Jefferson City, Mo., for alleged conspiracy in bribing state legislators.

Lant K. Salisbury, former Grand Rapids (Mich.) city attorney has been convicted of bribery, and confessed twenty-five names of those implicated. Sentence on him has been deferred.

Fr. Giuseppe Cirrione, a youthful priest at Williamsbridge, N. Y., is missing from his home and abduction by Mafia is feared. A demand was made on him for $3,000.

A protest against the bill to restore the army canteen has been sent to President Roosevelt by the W. C. T. U. national convention at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Col. Henry L. Turner of the First Illinois Infantry is ranked first in the report by the general staff on guard officers' efficiency.

A hotel hospital for rich patients, costing $250,000, will be added to St. Luke's at Chicago, and the profits will be used to make the present institution free.

The Michigan Central railroad is threatened with a congressional inquiry because its Chicago-Detroit fast mail service was canceled unknown to the postal officials.

A resolution appropriating $1,000 for striking Western Federation of Miners was passed by the American Federation of Labor convention in session at Boston. John Mitchell endorsed it.

FOREIGN.

Hitherto unknown sayings of Jesus Christ have been discovered in Egypt by archaeologists, in papyrus dug up 300 miles south of Cairo.

The Colombian revolution is quoted in England as a warning to Canada against independence. It is argued that a revolution along the St. Lawrence would quickly place that waterway in the United States.

A direct telegraph between London and New York, without repeating stations, is predicted by Jan. 1. Speed will be increased four times.

Chinese coolies are already en route to South Africa in advance of a new ordinance, which prohibits their embarking in mercantile pursuits or acting as skilled workmen.

FIND GIRL'S SLAYER IN WOODS.

Searchers Reach Andrew Renger When Nearly Dead From Exposure.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 16.—Suffering greatly from exposure, nearly famished, the 12-year-old son of Andrew Renger, a farmer of Dagget, who accidentally shot his 6-year-old sister, tearing the whole side of her face off, was found in the woods near Tishot by a searching party. When the boy shot his sister, while fooling with a gun, he attempted to find a cartridge to kill himself, but could not, and fled to the woods, where he remained with nothing to eat nor any protection from the cold nights.

Real Estate Transfers

Semplin Carron to Frank Mardun $1000.00 no 1/4 of sw 1/4 & pt se 1/4 of sw 1/4 s30 Newark Vol 163dd.

Miles H. Malone & wife to Herman Zimmerman $2250.00 se 1/4 of ne 1/4 of se 1/4 of ne 1/4 sec 15 Johnston Vol 163dd.

Henry Mardun & wife to Semplin Carron $1000.00 no 1/4 of sw 1/4 & pt se 1/4 of sw 1/4 s30-1-11 Newark.

Chicago Inter Ocean: By doing the square thing with Cuba other Spanish-American nations will be less inclined to tremble in the presence of our benevolent intentions.

Chicago News: It seems to be generally conceded that the Goelitz have done well. The Roxburgh title is very distinguished and the man who goes along with the title is quite unobjectionable.

The annual fear that the deer are in danger of extermination in northern Michigan has been revived. The slaughter will run into the thousands before the month is ended.

OBITUARY

Miles Kehoe, aged sixty-three years, died of bronchial pneumonia at his home at the corner of Sharon and Vine streets, at five o'clock this morning. He had been ill for two weeks but had been confined to his bed but four days. He leaves four sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. They are: John W., Henry, T. E., and M. J. Kehoe, and Mrs. John Commons, all of this city. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Timothy McKugo

Mrs. Timothy McKugo died at five o'clock Sunday afternoon at the age of seventy years. She leaves a husband and three children—Michael of Chicago, Mrs. Golden of this city, and Mrs. Rusfield of the town of Rock—to mourn her loss. Mrs. Kugo had been a resident of Janesville for forty-seven years. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church at half-past ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

Julius H. Barker

While conversing with friends at the James Gage hotel in Milton Junction Saturday evening, Julius Barker, an old and much respected resident of Janesville, suddenly gasped and fell back dead. His brother, George Barker, who resides on Park Place, between Wisconsin and Division streets, was at once informed and hastened to Milton Junction. The deceased was sixty-two years of age, having been born on a farm in the town of Janesville on August 9, 1841. Besides his brother he is survived by a sister in Baldwinville, Mass., and a half brother and half sister in California. The funeral was held from George Barker's home at two o'clock this afternoon and was attended by many sorrowing friends. Interment was made at Oak Hill.

WEEK'S FORECAST.

Outline of the Program in the Senate and House.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The daily sessions of the senate during the present week will be brief, and another adjournment will be taken on Thursday or Friday until the following Monday. The work of introducing bills and of presenting petitions will go forward, but with the exception of the Cuban bill neither bills nor petitions will be taken up in committee nor discussed during the week. There is an understanding that the new convention with Panama will not be transmitted to the senate until the beginning of the regular session of congress in December. It is expected the Cuban bill will be received from the house Friday, and it is probable a session will be held on that day in order that the bill may be referred to the committee on foreign relations, which will begin its consideration at once. The committee on military affairs will meet during the week to consider the nomination of Gen. Wood, and as soon as practicable after the committee reports on it the question of confirmation will be brought before the senate in executive session.

The bill making effective the Cuban reciprocity convention reported by the ways and means committee will be taken up in the house Monday and disposed of Thursday. Mr. Payne of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee, will ask the house as soon as it convenes Monday to begin its consideration. A rule will be reported by the committee on rules providing for a vote at 4 p. m. Thursday without intervening motion. On the adoption of the rule the house will go into committee of the whole and discussion of the bill will be begun. The rule cutting off amendments will be opposed by the Democrats in order that an amendment may be offered striking out the differential on refined sugar and eliminating the five-year clause, but under a caucus resolution the Democratic members are to vote for the bill either "upon the adoption or rejection of the amendment."

PRESS COMMENT.

Chicago Record Herald: King Peter of Serbia wants to borrow $20,000,000. If we were in Peter's place we'd hate to be found in Serbia with that much money.

THIS SPACE

BELONGS TO A GOOD THING.

WATCH IT CLOSELY.

Wilful Waste

Has made many men poor, while careful saving makes many rich.

Suppose you look over your expense account and see if you are wasting money. Take the matter of Clothes, for instance—

Do you buy Ready-Made Clothes without regard to the Make?

You can buy clothes of us for almost the same price you'd pay for inferior makes, but would get a make of clothes that you would get double the service from.

Stop and give this a thought if you are thinking of getting for yourself a Suit or Overcoat tomorrow.

AT—

$15

we are furnishing a variety of Suits and Overcoats which are made right, even to the very smallest detail, and if you will let us sell you one you will not have the slightest cause for dissatisfaction at any time during the season.

The Sack Suits are cut in the Varsity and four-button styles and are made up in handsome colorings in browns and green mixtures principally.

Overcoats are cut with wide shoulders and very full in the back.

Remember our $15.00 price and look through this line.

T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co.

E. J. SMITH, MANAGER.

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Cutting the Notch High

We've cut a high notch for November business with a store filled with good reliable merchandise, with styles brought right down to the minute, with selling enthusiasm prevailing every section; with clean methods and low prices there should be little difficulty in reaching the notch. Thus we swing into winter's business with full confidence as to results. And such attractive values as the following will do much to bring about those results.

The November Specials in Blankets and Comfortables.

Many wait for the nip of frost to buy their winter bed covering. To those who have so waited we offer the following.

Cotton Blankets.

Every price from 50c. to $2.00. Gray or white.

Half Wool and all Wool Blankets

never had better values—$2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 to $10.00.

Eiderdown Blankets

something extra nice, pure soft wool, excellent for a Christmas gift, $15.00.

Bath Robes, Blankets, Slumber Robes, Baby Blankets etc.

beautiful novelties, $1.25, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. We can blanket you.

BIBLES

At Greatly Reduced Prices From Former Years:

Oxford Bibles for young people.... 30c to $1.00
Oxford Bibles, and large print.

Testaments for old people..... 25c to $2.50

Oxford Bibles for Teachers..... $1.00 to $6.00

J. SUTHERLAND & SONS

12 South Main St., - - Janesville, Wis.